

TIDE OF BATTLE IN SALERNO AREA TURNED TODAY IN FAVOR OF ALLIES; GERMAN DIVISIONS HURLED BACK

Terrific Blows Dealt by Allied Planes and Warships — American Fifth Army Victorious In Its Fight
To Retain Bridgehead

By International News Service
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 16.—(INS).
The tide of battle in the Salerno area on the west coast of Italy
turned today in favor of the Allies.

German armored divisions were hurled back by terrific blows from armadas of Allied planes and warships and it appeared that the American Fifth Army was victorious
in its fight to retain the Salerno bridgehead.

Guns of the British battleships Warspite and Valiant were brought to bear on Nazi positions while the Allied air force for the second successive day flew more than 2,000
 sorties.

An official headquarters announcement said Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army had strengthened its hold on the embattled bridgehead.

Kaiser Urges Work For Most Efficient

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Henry
J. Kaiser, West Coast shipbuilder and industrialist, said today he had had official support for a plan designed to conserve manpower by granting war contracts on the competitive basis of man-hour efficiency
in war plants.

Charles E. Wilson, executive vice-chairman of the War Production Board, is "fully in accord" with his proposal, Kaiser said in an interview, and so is William H. Davis, War Labor Board chairman.

"Mr. Davis is solidly in line with the idea that when the Nation faces a manpower crisis it must make a tremendous effort to consolidate its energy through effective use of its manpower," Kaiser said.

The Army, Navy and Maritime Commission, under Kaiser's plan, would award contracts to producers who make the "best showing per man per ship or tank or ton of steel."

ministrative Executive for the Harbor Defenses of Boston and Com-

sonnel of the United States Army
at New England military installa-
Fort Banks, Mass., a week ago fol-

To the People of this Community:

CLOUDS OF PLANES!
Remember the tragic appeal
of the little French Premier, Reynaud, as his beloved country
fell before Hitler's screaming Stukas:

"Please, hurry. Send us clouds
of planes.
Please."

The clouds of planes are now
over Europe. They are War Bonds with wings. We must have more and more planes until the skies are literally black with our planes. Invasion is made easier, less costly as the bombs drop.
The Third War Loan campaign
is now entering its second week.
How many War Bonds with wings have you bought? But for these fighters of the skies you could not sleep easily tonight.
The invasion battles overseas in which your flesh and blood is taking part are being turned in our favor—your favor—by these clouds of planes. Back the attack with War Bonds. Buy an

Distributing New Health Guide Here

A new health teaching unit,
"Building A Better World," is being distributed to the teachers of Bucks County by the Bucks County
Tuberculosis Health Association,
according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Emma C.
Stover.

The unit was prepared by students taking the course in "Guidance" at Teachers College, Columbia University, under the direction of Dr. Ruth Strang, and was sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association.

After receiving a copy of the unit, Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction, commented that he had reviewed it "with great interest."

"The unit," explained Mrs. Stover,
"was developed around the theme of building better physical and mental health among children during war time. The inspiration for this teacher's aid comes from the 1943 Christmas Seal, which pictures
a child looking out of the window at the starlit sky. The face of the child possesses that faith which normally all happy, well-cared-for children have in Christmas."

POSTPONE SESSION

EDGELEY, Sept. 16.—The meeting of the East Bristol Township Parent-Teacher Association has been postponed until October 21st.

Absent-Minded? Whew!

(By "The Stroller")
It was a day when an Edgeley man was to serve as an usher at a wedding in Bristol. And he wanted to look his best.

So, after full and complete ablutions were performed, after he had donned spotlessly clean undergarments, and then his suit of "tails," he "sliced" his hair just so. A last glance in a mirror showed that his suit fitted him well, that there were no pieces of "fuzz" clinging to it, and that his hair was nicely smoothed.

And off he rushed for the event.

It was not until he neared Bristol that he realized that he had not shaved, and so a hurried return was made to Edgeley
to put the razor into play.

We'll wager that the groom
was less flustered.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS RETURNING TO SCHOOLS

Authorities Pleased at Fact That Students Are Continuing Education

GIVE UP POSITIONS

The high school boys and girls of Bucks County have returned to school, relinquishing in many cases, attractive summer positions.
Contrary to many predictions, the superintending principals and superintendents reported that the juniors and seniors have returned in full force.

In no high school in the county has the percentage of pupils dropping out exceeded the normal turnover. These encouraging reports have just been given at the county superintendent's annual staff conference at Doylestown. A great deal of satisfaction was experienced by the school administrators at the return of high school students.

Dr. Leonard Miller, of the State Department of Public Instruction, who was just returned from studying U. S. Army Inductions and Reception Centers, was one of the speakers at the conference. He said one of the most significant steps taken by the army at induction centers was when the inductees were divided into two groups for further study, one group of high school graduates and another of non-high school graduates. This action by the army, he said, speaks very eloquently of its appraisal of the value of a high school education.

COLORED WOMAN MAY DIE OF STAB WOUNDS IN NECK

Marie Hall, 28, Englishtown, N. J., in Critical Condition in Trenton Hospital

HUSBAND BEING HELD

Alleged Stabbing Said To Have Taken Place At
King Farms

A colored woman is in a critical condition in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., as the result, police say, of being stabbed by her husband.
The alleged stabbing took place late yesterday afternoon at the King Farm, near Tullytown.

Marie Hall, 28, was stabbed three times in the neck and her condition is said to be very serious. Police authorities worked on the case
throughout the night.

Wilson Hall, 33, Englishtown, N.
J., and employed by Ford-Bacon &
Davis, a contracting company of Linden, N. J., is being held by police.

According to the authorities Mrs.
Hall left her husband last Saturday, and came to the King farms to get a job with Jennie Harris. Yesterday afternoon between 3:30 and four o'clock Hall visited the King
farm and talked with his wife.

It is said that Hall endeavored to persuade his wife to return to him but her reply was "no." Mrs.
Hall, wanted to go to Alabama, she said, and her husband agreed to purchase tickets but then she refused. Hall coaxed his wife to go with him, but it is stated that she appeared to be afraid of him and declined.

Hall, becoming aggravated at his wife's refusal is quoted as saying "Ain't you going to go?" With this he is reported to have whipped out a knife with a seven inch blade and stabbed his wife three times in the neck.

Mrs. Hall has been unconscious but little hope is entertained for her recovery.

District Attorney, Edward G.
Blester; Assistant District Attorney, Willard Curtin; Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo,
Corporal R. D. Evans and Private Theodore Jones, Penna. State Police, worked on the case throughout the night.

BACK GO THE JAPS

Twenty thousand Japanese troops are caught in a trap in the Lae-Salamaua sector in New Guinea and apparently it is now only a matter of time until the Japanese are choked out of that area and the American forces in the Southwest Pacific will mark up one more major advance in their campaign to drive the Japs back and back.

With Gen. Douglas MacArthur looking on from a Flying Fortress, wave after wave of American paratroopers dropped on to an enemy airfield behind the powerful Jap air and sea anchorage base of Lae. General MacArthur's presence in New Guinea is one indication of the magnificent advances which have already been made in the Pacific battle area.

Allied fighting power has been steadily increasing in the Pacific and the combined forces of Australians and Americans have teamed up perfectly in the campaign to clear out the approaches to Australia. When this is done, General MacArthur will probably turn his attention toward the recapture of the Netherlands East Indies, a tremendous task.

Now, more than ever, Americans must not delude themselves over the enormity of the job which is ahead in the Far East. The Japanese still hold all of the East Indies, the Philippines, Malaya, Thailand, and they still occupy huge sections of China. The offensive action from Chinese bases has been stepped up, but Japan still holds the rivers, the railroads and vast areas of China's best crop lands.

No matter when peace comes in Europe, there is at the very least a full year of war ahead after that in the Pacific. Americans owe it to themselves to tighten their belts for the long pull.

CENSOR EXAMPLE

Correspondents of foreign newspapers accredited to the United States have protested again that American censorship on outgoing news is unfair. They were well satisfied until the administration clamped down on reports of the American defeat at Pearl Harbor. American censorship at that time raised a question as to the sincerity of the administration's promise for full and fair reports of the news. But at that time military security was involved.

Since Pearl Harbor, they have repeatedly protested that facts about the trend of public events in this country have been suppressed. English correspondents have protested that British public opinion about the world situation can not be sound unless their readers are correctly informed about details of events in the United States.

Recently the administration refused to allow British and other correspondents to cable reports of race difficulties in Detroit and New York. Essential facts about these outbreaks were freely reported in the American press, but the administration held that they would give a false impression abroad of the unity of the United States.

period of eighteen months — urged MR. JONES not only knows less about the great subject of food than Mr. Davis, but, if anything, he has less authority. He does not direct the Agriculture Department nor the food activities of the OPA. Nor are the other food agencies wholly under his control. He is a good man and is certainly doing some things — under the circumstances, doing as well as he can, or perhaps as well as anyone could. But, the fact remains that there is not today any more than there was six months ago a coherent, co-ordinated, adequate food policy directed and controlled by one man who clearly knows what he is about.

IN AGAIN calling attention to these facts and insisting upon a single head for food control the Republicans have performed a service. Neither the conditions nor the remedy can be repeated too often or too emphatically. And Mr. Roosevelt would, indeed, be wise if he fore the consequences of his neglect overtake us, he took the step so often urged upon him and from which he so strangely shrinks. Thus, he not only would be serving the national interests but his own as well, in that he would be, at least partially, relieved from charges sure to be made in the next campaign.

NOT THE least distressing feature of the situation is the fix of that upright and capable citizen, ex-Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York, who has been given the enormous job of feeding the starving people of Europe as they are released now from German servitude and after the war is over. He must know by this time that it is an impossible job — that it will not be entirely easy adequately to feed our own armies and our own people. While lack of a food policy is the big thing now, there are plenty who think the basic trouble goes back to early New Deal schemes which took more than 30,000,000 acres out of production, very little of which has the Administration been able to get back — though in fairness it should be said, it is trying. However, the new proposal that the Government buy the full crop at a price to satisfy the farmers and then sell to the dealers under cost does not seem to be the way. It is admitted that this would cost the taxpayer about $2,000,000,000 a year. The farmers seem reluctant to get up on that artificial platform for fear the props may be pulled from under them, once the war ends. It seems a justified fear.

for 1-7 verses and the 5th chapter of Ephesians.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Harry Neher, secretary. The treasurer, Miss Jane Rogers presented her report. During August, Mother Moore had asked that the Union make bedside bags for the patients at the Navy Hospital. At the president's home, Mrs. Harry Headley, entertained the members of the Bristol Union and a number of bags were completed. Slippers, in the near future, will be made for hospital patients.

Petition for H. R. 2082, to the Congress of the United States was discussed. This bill seeks to reduce absenteeism, conserve manpower, and speed production of materials necessary for winning the war, by prohibiting the manufacture, sale, or transportation of alcoholic liquors in the United States for the duration of the war and until the termination of demobilization. Church members have been urged to take a decided stand for the protection of their sons in petitioning Congress to pass this bill.

The members of the W. C. T. U. are attending the surgical dressing meeting at the community house Tuesdays from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

At the recent County Convention, held in Newtown, seventeen unions were represented. At this time Mrs. Berthalee Broyles, national vice-president, addressed the meeting and specifically stated that the W. C. T. U. is primarily a Christian organization and hence is interested in the spiritual welfare, as well as the material welfare of the people.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson read an interesting paper at the home meeting in which she emphasized the need for contacting the young mothers, and interesting them in the influence of liquor upon those entrusted to their care. Children are great imitators for good or evil, and it is imperative that the highest example be given the young.

A social hour followed. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Neher.

year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis VanPelt, of Pineville, who was reported missing in air action in a raid over Germany in which 57 planes were lost in August, is a prisoner of war of the German Government, the family was informed by the International Red Cross.

Mr. VanPelt told a reporter that the telegram indicated only the fact that he was a prisoner and that a letter would follow.

Sgt. VanPelt, according to a previous telegram from the War Department, had been missing since August 16th, when the Allies staged a big air raid over the continent, taking off from England.

Sgt. VanPelt, a graduate of Buckingham High, wrote a letter to his parents, dated August 13th, which was the last word they received from him. He was assigned to a Flying Fortress as an engineer. He left Doylestown with a contingent of selectees on August 24, 1942.

The telegram received was signed by Adjutant General Uilo, with the information that a letter from the Provost Marshal General's office will follow.

Sgt. VanPelt's twin brother, Aviation Cadet Allan VanPelt, is stationed in Texas.

"This is good news to us," declared Sgt. VanPelt's father. He is a veteran of the first World War.

Bucks county sales of Third War

Loan bonds cleared by the Federal Reserve Bank are listed at $195,400, according to the latest figures provided through the office of the county chairman, Judge Hiram H. Keller. The ultimate goal is $6,846,100.00.

The first reported figure is by no means the total amount of bonds sold to date in the county, for the Federal Reserve Bank is from three to eight days behind the actual sales, and the reported total of $195,400 does not include any of the sales being made by the house-to-house solicitors and other groups in the county.

The reported sales in Bucks county making up the $195,400 total has been broken down as follows: 7 1/2%, $15,000; 2's, $31,500; 2 1/2's, $17,500; Savings Notes—E, $99,300; F, $2,800; G, $29,300.

coyne, chairman of the Bond Drive for this area, an invitation ticket of admission will be issued.

A band concert and short street parade will precede the program at the Grand, Bristol's American Legion Cadets and the St. Francis Industrial School Band of Eddington will furnish music for the concert, which will be given in front of the Grand Theatre at 7:30.

A special stage program will also precede the screen show when war veterans and other guests will speak. The Hon. Hiram H. Keller, county chairman of the Third War Loan Drive, is expected to be on hand for the program.

"Today is American Heroes' Day. Will you make this a day for our heroes by buying War Bonds in honor of someone you have in service," said Mrs. John L. Kilcoyne, chairman of the bond drive in this area.

"This isn't the soldiers' and sailors' war alone. It's yours and mine. It's America and all we stand for—freedom. Bristol is dragging—we are not coming near our quota. We don't have to go to the front to fight. We can send our money. Do your share. The McCrory 5 and 10 cent store has invested another full day's receipts in War Bonds."

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Tingling, melodramatic action, the kind originated by the famous Dead End Kids and Little Touza Gays, is said to dominate their newest Universal picture, "Keep 'Em Sluggin'." coming tonight to the Grand Theatre.

The popular movie kids, including Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan, Gabriel Dell and Norman Abbott, have leading roles in the exciting film, which features Evelyn Ankers, Don Porter, and Elyse Knox. Others in the cast are Samuel S.

Hinds, Shemp Howard and Frank Albertson.

The original story, by Edward Handler and Robert Gordon, deals with a hi-jacking enterprise in which the lads become involved.

The second attraction in the double feature program tonight is "Spitfire's Blessed Event" with Lupe Velez.

BRISTOL THEATRE

"Appointment in Berlin," the new and exciting spy drama which opens at the Bristol Theatre today, brings to the screen an entirely different and unusually dramatic version of the machinations of the shrewd and adventurous members of modern spy rings. Here we have a highly respected young R. A. F. Commander throwing himself into an orgy of drinking and gambling so that he may be in "disgrace" in his own country and thus gain the confidence of a powerful Nazi group.

When "Silver Spurs" is seen at the Bristol Theatre for three days commencing today, Smiley Burnette will once more be seen as Roy Rogers' comic side kick.

RITZ THEATRE

Eighteen years ago Joseph Santley introduced a brand new song number, "It Had To Be You." Today that song has been revived and is sung by petite Mary Lee, in "Shantytown," which is currently showing at the Ritz Theatre.

The Mills Brothers, famed singing quartet and vocal tricksters, Guy," Universal's new comedy feature will be seen singing a pair of their ture, starring Joan Davis, which most popular numbers in "He's My comes today to the Ritz Theatre.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The long discussed changes in the State Department of Public Instruction are finally beginning to take shape. . . . Although the impending personnel shake up is not thoroughly underway—the dismissal of Deputy Superintendent Clarence E. Ackley, of Pittsburgh, being the only one so far—plans to decentralize the Department have been announced by Governor Martin. . . . Redistribution of power from the capitol to the local school districts will be the answer to the cries of boards throughout the State who have long been seeking more authority, for although the financial burden is left to them, four-fifths of the policies and directives are issued from Harrisburg.

The re-organization axe is expected to fall heaviest in the Department's licensing bureau, of which Ackley was formerly director. . . . Reports indicate that the bureau is "packed" with unnecessary employees. . . . The beauty culture section was singled out as one in which changes will be made. . . . The teacher placement service also has been the target for much criticism from smaller liberal arts colleges in the State which have charged that it is partial to graduates of State teachers colleges.

The entrance of the Prohibition Party in the race for the $18,000-a-year post on the State Superior Court did not stir up excitement on Capitol Hill. . . . Charles Palmer, Ridley Park attorney, filed his nomination papers on the final day permissible to oppose Republican incumbent Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, former Attorney General, and Judge Curtis Bok, of the Philadelphia Common Pleas Court, Democratic standard bearer in the November 2nd general election.

There are 28 mayoralty posts at stake in this Fall's municipal election. . . . Only 11 have Democratic incumbents. . . . Political leaders will note keenly the Philadelphia results where G. O. P. incumbent Bernard Samuel is opposed by Democratic candidate William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Russia and France. . . . A close fight with a possible strong bearing on next year's Presidential vote is expected as Governor Martin carried Philadelphia over Auditor General F. Clair Ross by only 157 votes in last year's gubernatorial election.

The State Defense Council has been flooded with requests from all over the nation for a pamphlet entitled "Pennsylvania's First Year At War." . . . Published by the State Historical Commission, the book was distributed to State Defense Councils throughout the country and repeated requests for more copies have been received from Florida to California. The pamphlet terms the Keystone State the arsenal of America in World War II, and describes the many activities by which Pennsylvanians and the State government are furthering the war effort. . . . The Historical Commission is now preparing another booklet on the State's second year at war.

SELLERSVILLE—Oswin N. Nase, of Sellersville, believes the government should look into the increase in prices since 1921. Nase, a general store proprietor, came across an old ledger which showed that whiskey sold for 10 cents a quart in 1921. A night's lodging cost six cents.

CARLEISLE BARRACKS—The American soldier is getting the finest medical care in the world. So says Col. Guy B. Dent, who recently returned to the United States from a six months' tour as a chief surgeon of a base section in the African theater of operations.

STATE COLLEGE—Sunday is now clean-up day at Pennsylvania

State College. Bright and early on the Sabbath Day, while the rest of the campus sleeps, groups of freshmen—all violators of fresh customs—may be found clearing the front campus of newspapers, paper scraps and other litter.

The production front is just as important to victory as the fighting front. In order to keep up production of Plexiglas, Crystalite, Lethane, Primal, Lykopen and other vital war materials, we must bring in workers from outside areas—and they must have living quarters.

If you have a spare room for a man or woman in Bristol or vicinity, here is a chance to help the war effort and add to your income at the same time. Phone Bristol 875—ask for Personnel Dept. Girls from Bucks County Studying at Allentown ALLENTOWN, Sept. 16—Miss Lillie Girt, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Girt, Mill street, Bristol, and Miss Carolyn Lloyd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Budd W. Lloyd of R. D. 1, Newtown, participated in the traditional "Open Door" ceremony of Cedar Crest College on Sunday morning, when the Bible, charter, and keys were passed over by the secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees to President Dale H. Moore. Dr. W. Sherman Kerschner, the pastor of the Heidelberg Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia, was the guest speaker; and the other events of the opening day included a parent-student-faculty tea, a piano recital by the new director of music and his wife, Mr. and Mrs.

Albur Hollman, and a vesper service at which time the undergraduates were addressed by President Moore.

Miss Girt, who is a member of the senior class at Cedar Crest this year, has been appointed by the dean as a student guide to four freshmen. In this capacity she has been at the college since last Thursday, and has been guiding her group in schedule planning and acquainting them with college life in general. Miss Girt was a student of Spanish in the Summer School of Spanish, Middlebury, Vt., this summer, which is perhaps the most noted college for language study.

Miss Lloyd is a sophomore at the college, and together with Miss Girt they resumed their studies when classes began. Miss Lloyd is studying in the field of home economics, while Miss Girt is majoring in languages.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galey)
Pastor
Bristol Presbyterian Church

O God, our Heavenly Father, make us strong! We are living in a day when strength is mandatory; when our abilities are taxed to the limit of their endurance; when unused talents spell the difference between success and failure. Open our eyes to the various avenues of service which surround us, and grant that we might have the courage and the determination to walk in those ways which will bring glory to Thee and add to our own happiness. Let us not be satisfied with a vancement to Thy Kingdom, task half done, but cause us to work unceasingly, that thy will might be accomplished. Through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Tide of Battle in Salerno Area Turned Today In Favor of The Allies

A constant stream of troop reinforcements and supplies were put ashore from Allied fleets under cover of the aerial bombing and shelling from surface craft in the Gulf of Salerno.

Eighth Army forces under British Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery redoubled the pace of its forced march northward to assist Gen. Clark's army. The Eighth Army spearhead pushed northward through Salerno toward Sapri, bringing Montgomery's main forces to within approximately 65 miles of land from the Fifth Army.

months prior to his appointment as an Aviation Cadet in the Army Air Forces Flying Training Command. During this period he will take numerous academic courses, as well as elementary flying training. Upon completion of the course he will be classified as a navigator, pilot or bombardier and go on to schools of the Flying Training Command for training in these specialties.

Stanley Wells, 1108 Radcliffe street, Bristol, has started classes at the Pennsylvania State College as an engineering student under the Army Specialized Training Program. He is among the 775 trainees selected by the Army as having qualifications for engineering study and assigned recently to Penn State.

Even in the face of manpower shortages in certain areas, officials explained, the need for specially trained men in the Army is so great that trainees have been assigned to colleges to acquire background that may better fit them for special military tasks.

In addition to military training and physical fitness, his 64-hour weekly schedule will embrace a long list of academic subjects. The students live in former fraternity houses during their stay here.

will continue throughout the year and to turn aside the opportunity for high pay cannot be determined. The high school authorities are, however, making every effort to rearrange schedules so that high school students may work out of school hours on the farm, in offices, and in stores. Forty-four hours maximum has been set by the State Labor Laws for time spent in school and at work. Exceptions for certain war plants have been made so that the total time may be 48 hours a week. All school administrators pledged complete cooperation with William Greenwalt, County Extension Agent and Amos Satterthwaite of the Emergency Farm Labor Bureau, in meeting emergency farm labor demands. The principals will send teachers to act as farm labor supervisors whenever eight or more students are sent to help on the farm. Pupils in the higher grades of the elementary schools are, as in the past two years, being excused at noon to work on the farms.

In Springfield Township, all pupils of grades 10, 11, or 12 were out last week helping on the farms. Other school administrators indicated that if they depended upon volunteers in the high schools for farm labor they could not get enough to help. It has been necessary to take an entire high school class or section with the teachers and send them out on the farm.

CHESTER — When Navy Coxswain Frank J. (Rocky) Kaminski, 26, of Chester, arrived at Vittorio, Sicily, he found Italian soldiers with their guns piled in the streets and their bags packed. Those who could speak English asked only one question "When do we go to Brooklyn?"

NEW CASTLE—Thomas J. Cunningham, New Castle businessman, wondered for a time whether Selective Service is calling up pre-Pearl Harbor grandfathers. Cunningham, the father of 12 children and the grandfather of nine of them, recently received an order from his draft board to report for his physical examination.

HA-GRISHURD — Tipper, a two-year-old airdale, is the first Harrisburg dog to meet death in the armed forces. His owner, Ralph W. Swartley, was informed by the War Department that he died in "line of duty."

GETTYSBURG — A real estate catalogue description of a farm in Adams County caught the eye of 12 A. S. Bagley, serving in North Africa with the U. S. Army. He called a check to Gettysburg for its purchase and an agreement of sale was sent to the officer. Now he's waiting for the war to end so he can take over his farm.

STATE COLLEGE — Fifteen Pennsylvania school teachers took flying lessons this summer as part of a course in pre-flight aeronautics offered by Pennsylvania State College. Eight of the 15 teachers were women.
